June-September:

We will monitor weather for best release date for all ground shipments.

West Coast: Wine shipments will usually be sent out within one week.

Other States: We regularly monitor the weather for potential breaks, however cannot promise ground shipping before October. Shipments are held in our warehouse until the weather is cool enough to ship. You may still select ground shipping and ask us to release the order immediately. We cannot guarantee the wine will not be damaged by heat.

Please email meghan#@bartestate.com to request release.
